

The Construction Industry Coalition on Water Quality presents:

2-day Qualified SWPPP Practitioner and 3-Day Qualified SWPPP Developer Training

Downey, California, June 15-17, 2011, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

THE COURSE

CICWQ is offering 2-day Qualified SWPPP Practitioner (QSP) and 3-Day Qualified SWPPP Developer (QSD) training based on California general construction permit requirements adopted by the State Water Resources Control Board on September 2, 2009.

The 2-day QSP course and 3-day QSD course meet the State Board's curricula requirements and cover other essential legal and technical considerations for managing construction site runoff. Those students attempting to obtain the QSD training credential must first attend the 2-day QSP training course and then attend a third day.

THE FORMAT

The courses are comprehensive and fast-paced. CICWQ uses a 30-minute lecture/interaction approach over an 8-hour day, typically using 2 to 4 instructors per day. Students take morning and afternoon breaks and work through lunch, with guest speakers typically invited. When available, guest lecturers from local government or regional water quality control boards address students. This interaction among students and regulators is invaluable, as it fosters communication and understanding. We prepare you to take and pass the State certification exam.

THE CONTENT

CICWQ teaches the State Board-approved curricula for obtaining the QSP and QSD credentials that prepares students to take the certification exam. This includes complete coverage of the first 5 modules for the QSP and 3 additional modules for the QSD training. To see the full outline of teaching modules and content, access the CICWQ Construction Permit Training Program web page.
